NEWS OF KANSAS.

J. H. E. Weigant is Supposed to Have Absconded.

Was Prominent in the Red Men and Other Lodges.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

Two Fine Barns Burned in Atchison County.

EMPORIA, Oct. 20.—It has just become known to the public here that J. H. E. Weigant, who for years has held the office of grand chief of records of the Order of Red Men and who was re-elected at the grand council held here this week was forced to resign the office because of the shortage in his accounts. C. A. Wolf of Atchison being chosen in his place. It now develops that Weigant left this city very abruptly, leaving his wife here, who feared he had committed suicide. A dispatch from her at her home in Leavenworth today states that Weigant is not there, and the general belief is that he has absconded. Weigant was a member of some twenty-four secret societies, in several of which he held positions of trust; where he had the handling of money. Knights of Pythias and members of the United Workmen state that he was short in his account to both of these orders, but on being pushed, managed in some way to raise enough money to pay his shortage. It is the general supposition that he took the funds of the Red Men, several hundred dollars of which he should have turned over six months ago to the treasurer and paid off what he was short in the other orders. How much his shortage with the Red Men has not yet been ascertained.

WAS NOT BURIED ALIVE.

A Horrible Story Circulated at Leavenworth Previews to Be Untrue.

LEAVENWORTH, Oct. 20.—For the past week a story has been circulated to the effect that a man who was not dead had been buried in Mt. Muncie cemetery. It was said that there had been occasion to remove the body of the late son of Mr. Wm. Gordon, and upon reaching the cemetery the glass was broken, and that the body had been eaten and the hands and arms by the man in order to sustain life, and that the body was lying on its side.

When Mr. Gordon was asked about the story, he said that the grave had not been opened since the burial. Some members of the family had visited the grave since the funeral, and they knew it had not been disturbed.

Mr. Gordon says he will give $25 to any one who will discover the author of the canard.

CAUGHT THE THIEF HIMSELF.

A Farmer Whose Home Was Burglarized Trained the Thief and Got Him.

INDEPENDENCE, Oct. 20.—Mr. J. C. Thomas, who lives between this city and Cherryvale, attended the reunion at Petroleum park with his family. Upon returning home in the evening he found that his home had been entered and the hands and arms by the man in order to sustain life, and that the body was lying on its side.

Mr. Thomas at once started in pursuit and trailed the thief to Cherryvale. As the midnight eastbound Santa Fe train was preparing to pull out they saw a man getting onto the platform of the train, and he followed him. He was evidently the right man, as most of the stolen articles were found in his possession.

Two Fine Barns Burned.

ATCHISON, Oct. 20.—News has just reached here that during the big storm which passed over this county Thursday night, the splendid barn on the farm of R. Franzell, eight miles southwest of Atchison, was struck by lightning, and burned to the ground. The barn contained a thousand bushels of wheat. There was no insurance; the loss will amount to $4,000. The barn on the farm of Ira L. Maxon, northwest of Nortonville, in Atchison county, was also fired by lightning. It was completely destroyed, causing a loss of $1,500.

Sheridan County Farmer Murdered.

HOPKINS, October 20.—Tuesday morning Emory Williams, a farmer living north of this place, started after a load of hay, and when about a mile and a half from his home was shot and instantly killed. Nine buckshot entered his head. Williams' murder found his son, an hour after he was murdered. She drove his team home, bringing his body, and sent for help. It is thought he was shot by his brother-in-law, John Wilson.

Robbers Put to Jail.

INDEPENDENCE, Oct. 20.—James Scott and Alexander Hall, two young highwaymen, are now in jail at Coffeyville. On the night of October 4 they held and robbed a lone colored man near Eatonville, Coffey county, and succeeded in escaping into the territory. Sheriff Skinner of Coffey county and posse pursued them and overtook and captured them at Nowata, I. T.

LENORA, Oct. 20.—Alva and William White were arrested here yesterday and taken to Norton for trial on the charge of shooting a man named Vredenburg at this place. The White boys and Vredenburg quarreled over a lease, with the result that one of the boys emptied a shotgun into Vredenburg's face and chest.

GOING HOME TO VOTE.

If You Go on a Special Pass It Is Illegal For You to Vote.

Chairman Breidenthal, of the Populist state central committee, says he has information that there are in the state of Kansas about 15,000 voters away from home, who would go home to vote if they had free transportation. He says he also has information that the Republican state central committee proposes to furnish transportation to all voters who will go home and vote the Republican ticket; this he says he understands to be a violation of the Douglass election law.

Chairman Breidenthal accordingly asked the attorney general for his opinion on the matter, asking the following questions:

First—Will the furnishing of a railroad ticket, pass or other means of transportation, or the furnishing of the money or other means with which to procure such ticket or other transportation, for a voter, by any candidate for any office, constitute a violation of sections 1 and 2 of chapter 77, of the laws of Kansas, of 1893?

Second—Will the issuing, giving away or in any way furnishing any such transportation by any railroad company, officer, agent or employee thereof, or by any other person or persons, constitute a violation of sections 1 and 2 of said chapter?

In answer to these questions Attorney General Little has replied as follows:

I have carefully examined chapter 77 of the laws of 1893, being an act to prohibit the corrupt practices at election. It was the evident intent of the legislature in passing that act, to prohibit every conceivable influence induced by money or other valuable thing to induce a person to vote for or against any candidate at an election.

So important does this law intend to be to all candidates that it will not permit one candidate to even treat another on election day, nor has a candidate a right to employ any person to work for him at the polls; neither can a candidate, for a consideration, employ any person to drive a team in the interest of any particular candidate on election day.

No railroad company nor any person engaged in business as the agent for said company, can present to or give a free ride upon its cars or pass to any person in violation of the election law.

Any person who votes for or against any candidate for any office, whose name may be suggested by said agent of such corporation, and no railroad company or person can give a free ride or free ticket to any person as an inducement for that person to cast his ballot for any particular candidate at an election, in violation of said chapter.

THREATS FOR MR. WALKER

A Chicago Packing Concern Bulldozes the Santa Fe Road.

A Chicago dispatch gives the following: Chicago, Oct. 20.—The Chicago and North Western packing concern, Alameda E. Walker did not tell the federal grand jury all about the paying of rebates by the past Santa Fe management. The dispatch is as follows:

"It now transpires that the reason Alameda E. Walker did not give the evidence he promised before the federal grand jury, in the case of the Santa Fe rebates, was that before he went on the stand the head of one of the largest packing houses in the world, and another large shipper on the Santa Fe, went to Vice President Robinson and told him that if Mr. Walker disclosed the rebates, the Santa Fe would not receive another car of freight from them. As these two companies pay probably 10 per cent of the freight revenue received by the Santa Fe, it is said that Mr. Robinson told Alameda E. Walker that he should afford to lose their business. These two shippers were not the only ones who feared the evidence Mr. Walker could give. Others protested against his promise to tell everything, and as Mr. Walker told nothing it is supposed no heeded their demands."

When health is considered, no baking powder can be used with safety but Dr. Price's. Analysis shows all other powders to contain lime, ammonia or alum.

HOW TO BE ATHLETIC.

Dr. Stewart's Lecture at the School of Physical Culture.

Last night Dr. S. G. Stewart gave a very pleasing and instructive address before the pupils and an appreciative audience. He first spoke of the developing exercises by the modern scientific principles and ways we have improved and enlarged upon them up to the present time. Their aim was principally to produce strength, in the sense of athletics, rather than give symmetrical training, while the exercises and training of today are based upon the best scientific principles and give symmetry of form and grace.

He explained the importance of deep breathing and showed the benefits to be derived from it, explaining how the circulation and digestion are aided by this exercise and how it is taught in the gymnasium, and heartily commended the training for women and children, saying that early physical training is most important and should not be disregarded.

JAPS DRIVEN BACK.

A Severe Battle Reported Between Japanese and Chinese.

Japs Crossed Yalu River and Attacked Chinese.

FIERCE FIGHTING.

The Japanese Troops Were Finally Driven Back.

Both Sides Are Said to Have Lost Heavily.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A dispatch received here from Shanghai says that according to Chinese advice a severe battle has been fought on the lower portion of the Yalu river. The Japanese are said to have crossed the river and to have attacked the Chinese, but it is reported, after fierce fighting, the Japanese were repulsed. Both sides are said to have lost heavily. The Chinese do not claim a conclusive victory, but they declare that they still maintain this position.

FIGHTING ACTUALLY OCCURRED.

That is the Belief at Shanghai in Regard to the Yalu Battle.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 20.—Four vessels of the Chinese Southern squadron have arrived at Wei Hai Wei. The Chinese steamer Tung Chow which has arrived here, reports that two Chinese iron-clads and one Chinese cruiser which have been under repairs at Port Arthur have left that place and reached Wei Hai Wei.

It is added that the other Chinese warships will require more extensive repairs, and consequently their departure from Port Arthur may be delayed for some time.

Renewed rumors are in circulation regarding the battle said to have been fought on the Yalu river between the forces of China and Japan. No accurate details are obtainable in regard to this engagement.

But according to one rumor, the Japanese have been repulsed with severe loss on both sides. As the Chinese do not claim a victory, this report may turn out to be incorrect. It is believed, however, that fighting actually occurred on the Yalu river.

Troops Pouring Into Tien Tsin.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A dispatch from Tien Tsin states that troops are pouring into that city. General Chesney of the British army has received permission to accompany the Chinese army to the field.

A dispatch from Shanghai announces that the Chinese navy is seriously considering the advisability of removing from Peking to Singan, in Shensi, the ancient Che-li.

Russian Ships Going to China.

A PENSION DECISION.

Termination of Service in Pension Cases Limited to One of Two Dates.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Assistant Secretary of the Interior Reynolds has made a ruling that section 7402 revised statutes, limits the legal termination of service in any pension case to either one of only two possible dates; these are the date of actual discharge for any other cause than expiration of the term of office of the organization, and the date of the dissolution of the organization because of expiration of term.

It is held that a determination of the commencement of service by the war department from its records, a full consideration of the law and facts in any claim based upon service during or since the war of the rebellion, will be accepted by the interior department as final. The rule that pay is coincident with and determines the period of such service is vacated and set aside, and the consequent decisions are overruled.

A PATRIARCHAL FRAUD.

An Old Man Claiming to be a Hawaiian Commissioner is Missing.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20.—J. F. Brannon, representing himself as the member of a commission from the Hawaiian government sent to this country to oppose the granting of a pension to ex-Queen Liliuokalani, reached Columbus several days ago. He announced that the other commissioners were to join him, and being a patriarchal looking individual about sixty years old, soon ingrained himself into the favor of prominent politicians.

He had frequented the bar of the best hotels where he registered as a resident of Honolulu. From a number of gentlemen Brannon secured the advancement of sums of money to last until his friends reached the city or an expected remittance from Spreckels, the sugar king, arrived from San Francisco. Last night it developed that Brannon was missing and numerous hotel proprietors are hunting for him.

EX-POLICEMEN ARRESTED.

Practical Results of the Lexow Investigation in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Upon bench warrants issued last night, the following ex-police officers were arrested today. Captain Doherty and his two ward detectives, Hook and Mehan, ex-Sergeants Liebers, Parkerson, Jordan, Clark and McKenna.

The warrants were issued on charges brought out before the Lexow committee and substantiated at the defendant's trial before the police board, on which occasion, Hook and Mehan, ex-Sergeants Liebers, Parkerson, Jordan, Clark and McKenna.

After the World's Championship. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Dan McLeod, the local champion catch-as-can wrestler, is after the world's championship. He has defeated every one who has gone against him on the Pacific coast, and now challenges anybody in the world to meet him at this style of wrestling for $1,000.

NEW ARMY TACTICS.

Complete Regulations for Every Department of the Military Prepared.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The new army regulations are nearing completion. Three-fourths of the entire work has been approved by Gen. Schofield. The balance is likely to be passed on by him within the next two or three weeks. It remains then only to have the entire work approved by the secretary of war. The advanced stage of the work makes it probable that the new volume will be ready for distribution before the close of the year.

The new regulations are regarded as quite important, as the new tactics embrace the common law of the army based on experience, orders of the president and of the war department laws of congress. It covers all questions of military discipline, rank and precedence, appointments and promotions, uniforms and equipments, furloughs, desertions, post cautions, ceremonies, pay and allowances, flags, music and the innumerable things which govern every branch of an army life.

Indirectly, also, the regulations are awaited with much interest by the militia and national guard, as the state troops adopt the government regulations as well as the tactics.

The war department has taken the greatest care preparing the new regulations. A board of three veteran officers, Colonels Corbin, Gilmore and Babcock, now serving as assistant adjutant general, were detailed to supervise the work. Lieutenant John T. French, who had recently completed his service as recorder, in preparing the new infantry, cavalry and artillery tactics, was given immediate charge of the work of evolving the regulations, and Gen. Schofield has also gone over each step of the work and thus the new book has been subjected to the most rigid scrutiny.

The regulations will embody the experience of about 100 years of army life. Baron Steuben, a German nobleman, who was the drill master of our revolutionary troops, made the first regulations but they were very crude and a part of the tactics. In 1821, Gen. Winfield Scott prepared the first systematic set of regulations, and they have since served as a basis to be built upon, modified and enlarged. Successive presidents have made changes as necessity arose. The war department issues general orders every day, applying mainly to specific cases, but often establishing precedents for the entire army. All this material was digested in 1881, and again in 1890, but the daily orders of the last five years have required this new volume.
